4. Failure to have performed any contractual obligations with the department in a manner satisfactory to the department will be a sufficient cause for termination. To be terminated as a provider under this provision, the provider must have: (1) previously failed to satisfactorily perform in a contract with the department, been notified by the department of the unsatisfactory performance, and failed to correct the unsatisfactory performance to the satisfaction of the department; or (2) had a contract terminated by the department for cause.

(2) Juvenile Dependency Mediation - A process whereby a neutral third person called a mediator acts to encourage and facilitate the resolution of a dispute between two (2) or more parties. It is an informal and non-adversarial process with the objective of helping the disputing parties reach a mutually acceptable and voluntary agreement. In mediation, decision-making authority rests with the parties. The role of the mediator includes, but is not limited to, assisting the parties in identifying issues, fostering joint problem solving, and exploring settlement alternatives.

(3) Second Judicial Circuit – The Second Judicial Circuit provides services for this contract in its various county courthouses and other facilities. The Second Judicial Circuit consists of Franklin, Gadsden, Jefferson, Leon, Liberty, and Wakulla Counties.

2. General Description

a. General Statement: Juvenile Dependency Mediation is a process whereby a neutral third person called a mediator acts to encourage and facilitate the resolution of a dispute between two or more parties. The role of the mediator includes, but is not limited to, assisting the parties in identifying issues, fostering joint problem solving and exploring settlement alternatives. The Leon County Court Administrators Office is the director and administrator for the Juvenile Dependency Mediation Program for the Second Judicial Circuit of Florida.

Juvenile dependency mediation is used at dependency adjudication and case plan approval, visitation arrangements or termination of parental rights, and benefits the family, the children and the public. Mediation is believed to be valuable to the public by potentially reducing the amount of time, expense and resources expended by all parties when resolving dependency disputes. Mediation allows the family members a forum for parental participation and involvement in decision making affecting their children.

This process encourages less conflict in case resolution and ultimately less conflict in the family unit. Reduction of conflict in the family unit can serve to prevent future abuse or neglect and reduce the length of time a child spends in out-of-home placement. Services will be provided to the departments' Leon County Family Safety and Preservation Program dependent children and their families. The need for juvenile dependency mediation services shall be determined jointly by the court and the department.

The major goal of this program is that children will grow up in permanent families free from abuse and neglect. It is believed that mediation services reduces the amount of time and resources expended by the department, court, families, social workers, attorneys, and the Guardian ad Litem Program in resolving disputes. The mediation program serves families, by court order, who have a dependency petition filed in which the department is a party in the dependency action. This service is provided to families who have a dependency petition filed in the Second Judicial Circuit and the department is a party to the dependency action.

The Juvenile Dependency Mediation Program employs mediators who are specially trained in dependency mediation and who meet the mediator education and training requirements and standards set by the Florida Supreme Court in the Florida Rules for Certified and Court Appointed Mediators. The dependency mediation program operates out of the Court Administrator's Office and all services are provided at the Leon County Courthouse or in out-lying county courthouses.

- c. Scope of Service: Services will be provided to the Departments' Family Safety Program's dependent children and their families. The need for juvenile dependency mediation services shall be determined jointly by the court and the Department.
